Camilion Solutions Announces Strategic Appointment to Leadership Team

Enterprise Software Veteran Brings Extensive Services Experience as Camilion Positions for Continued Growth

TORONTO, ON – August 22, 2007 – Camilion Solutions, a leading provider of product development and next-generation policy administration systems to the insurance industry, today announced that the company has appointed Susan Hutt as Senior Vice President, Services. Hutt, who previously served as Senior Vice President, Global Services for Workbrain, will report directly to CEO Ross Orrett and will assume responsibility for Camilion’s services organization including implementation, training and customer support.

“We are very pleased to welcome Susan to the Camilion team as we enter our next phase of growth,” said Ross Orrett. “With a growing number of the world’s largest insurers choosing Camilion for our business-transforming solutions, increased industry recognition, and with year-over-year growth, this is an exciting time for the organization. Under Susan’s strong leadership and with her proven track record of delivering exceptional client services, we will continue to build a world-class services organization.”

“I am excited to be joining one of Canada’s fastest growing technology firms,” said Hutt. “I look forward to delivering world-class service to our clients, helping them define and implement solutions that will significantly improve their business and to leading an experienced group of professionals to expand our service offerings.”

Prior to joining Camilion, Hutt held executive and management positions with some of North America’s most successful companies. With over 20 years enterprise software services experience, Hutt began her enterprise software career with Integral Systems, and was recruited to PeopleSoft in 1994 as Vice President, Customer Services. In 1996, she was appointed Vice President, Professional Services and led the growth of PeopleSoft’s Canadian delivery organization. As Group Vice President, PeopleSoft Global Services, Hutt led several acquisition integration efforts for Global Services and managed the creation and development of solution centers in India and around the world. Hutt has a Bachelor of Mathematics from the University of Waterloo.
